Spot the Difference!

Sunny is enjoying a day at the beach! Can you spot 5 differences between the two pictures?
Circle them when you spot the difference!

Help Sunny Find His Ice Cream!

Sunny dropped his ice cream on the sand. Help him find the way through the maze to get it back. Start at the nest and end at the ice cream cone.

Connect the dots.

Sunny's Summer Trip

Connect the dots from 1 to 50 to see how
Sunny is travelling this summer!.

Aussie Jokes for Cool Kids!

What do you call a snowman in Australia?

A puddle!

Why did the sand blush?

Because the sea-weed!

What did one wave say to the other wave?

Why did the crab never share his toys?

Nothing – they just waved!

Because he was a little shellfish!

Why did the ice cream truck break down?

What did the surfboard say to the beach towel?

Because of all the rocky roads!

Catch you on the flip side!

What do you call a dog at the beach?

What do you call a crocodile in sunglasses?

A Hot Dog!

A cool croc, mate!

What's a shark's favourite summer snack?

What happens when the sun gets too hot?

Fish and Chomp!

It sets.

KOOKABURRA FUN FACTS

Their call sounds like big, happy laughter, but it's actually how they talk to each other.

Their “laughter” can synchronise across a whole neighbourhood, creating a loud chorus for every one to hear.

Kookaburras stay with their parents and help look after new baby birds. Teamwork!

They sit high up in gum trees so they can see everything below, like little lookouts.

Kookaburras don't eat seeds, they like insects, worms, and sometimes even small lizards.

Kookaburras are keen hunters, preying on venomous snakes.

Kookaburras are native to Australia, they've lived here for millions of years!

Kookaburras have learned that humans cook tasty things, and will dive in and snatch sausages right off the bbq.
